Our Vision is for the Gladstone Region to be a community where everyone experiences the transforming love of Jesus.

Humanity Leak in Progress

Based on Matthew 9:18-26 – A bleeding woman and a dead girl become places where life and healing appear.

The train moved beneath the city with the kind of silence only expensive engineering could achieve. Its windows remained opaque during lower-sector transit, officially to maintain “cognitive calm” among Level Three citizens, though everyone understood the real reason. The Council did not want the genetically stable looking down at the districts where the unstable still lived. Even through the sealed glass, Mara could feel the city changing beneath them. Above ground, the central sectors were white steel, polished stone, and carefully balanced symmetry. Below ground, where the transit rails curved through the older infrastructure, the lowers survived in shadows beneath the colony’s perfection.

Across the carriage wall, the public advisory flickered in calm white lettering.

GENETIC DEVIATION IS A PUBLIC HEALTH RISK. REPORT UNREGISTERED INSTABILITY.

PURITY PRESERVES HUMANITY.

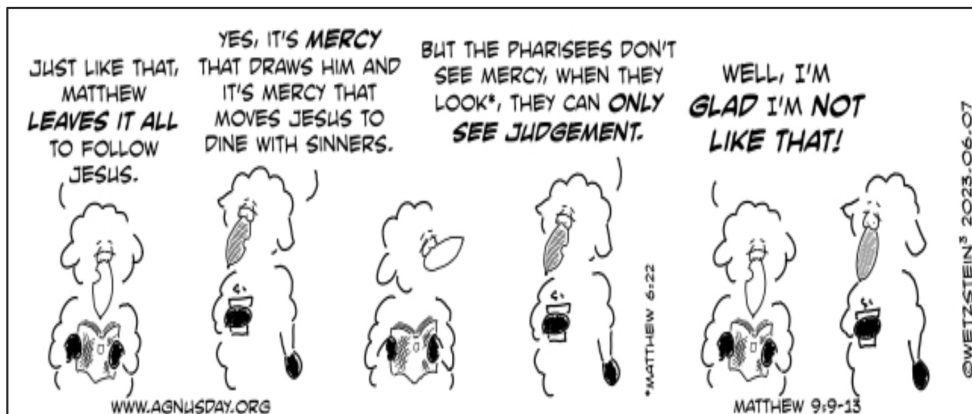

Nobody looked up anymore. The slogans had become environmental decoration. Around Mara, commuters rested their wrists against the biometric scanners embedded into the seat dividers while soft blue pulses confirmed biochemical stability every thirty seconds. Stable. Stable. Stable. The carriage accepted the lie beneath Mara’s skin without hesitation.

She folded her hands beneath her coat, hiding the faint silver staining beneath her fingernails where the suppressants settled, no matter how carefully she scrubbed them away. Twelve years. Twelve years of hiding a degenerative instability disorder that should have excluded her from public education before age six. Twelve years of forged medical reviews, altered archive records, stolen suppressants, and carefully timed injections. The colony had declared people like her nonviable long ago. Mara had simply refused to disappear politely.
